FCC - reject the NAB's pretition 04-160. I am an XM subscriber and find it appalling that I might lose a part of the service that I pay $ for. How can local radio stations make a case against the XM weather and news stations? Did the local tv stations raise a fuss when the weatherChannel was introduced on cable/satellite tv? How is this any different? I pay for XM and expect them to be able to deliver something my local stations can't and won't -- comprehensive weather and traffic reports -- the local stations 2 minute version of the same reports pale in comparison.
